

Elsbeth Adriana McMullan is originally from Postville, IA. She studied at the University of Iowa, where she finished her undergraduate studies with a B.A. in Sociology and graduated in May 2011 with a Master in Public Health in the Community and Behavioral Health department. She is interested in minority and mental health as well as health communication. During her studies, Adriana was an officer in multiple student organizations, was a member of Iowa's Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (I-LEND) program, and completed her practicum at Trinity Muscatine Public Health with an emphasis on community outreach and the Community Health Needs Assessment/Health Improvement Plan (CHNA/HIP). This summer, she interned at Community Health Care in Davenport while working on a wellness proposal for their patient population. She is currently the AmeriCorps HealthCorps member at Trinity Muscatine Public Health.
