

Public health matters to...

every Iowan

in every home

in every school

in every clinic

in every business

in every community

every day.

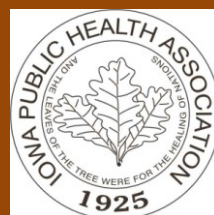

Public health matters to every Iowan, every day.

For 85 years, the Iowa Public Health Association has been the voice for public health in Iowa.

Can you find three minutes?

View the Healthiest Nation in One Generation video online at www.generationpublichealth.org and then forward it on to a friend, family member, colleague or your elected officials. It clearly explains why public health matters in every life, every day.
